John : Me, too. What time will Shonan Amusement Park close today?
Kana : It'll close at 4 p.m. So we can be here for 7 hours. What will we do today?
John : First, let's ride a *roller coaster. In this *amusement park, there are three kinds of roller coasters : Ohgusuyama, Hirasakugawa, and Nandeyanen. Shall we ride Ohgusuyama? It's a roller coaster that goes the highest (①) the three.
Kana : Sorry, I don't want to ride it because I don't like high places. How about Hirasakugawa?
John : It's a roller coaster that runs the longest *distance (①) the three.
Kana : (②). We can enjoy it for the longest time. I think it's very fun.
John : After that, let's ride Nandeyanen. It's the fastest roller coaster (①) the three. But it runs shorter distance than ③the other two.
Kana : Sure. After that, shall we eat lunch? I want to eat seafood. What do you want to eat for lunch?
John : I want to eat curry rice. Let's go to Yokosuka Cafe. We can eat both of them. This cafe is famous (④) seafood.

After lunch

Kana : Shall we ride the *Ferris wheel? We can see the sea because it's fine today.
John : That's a good idea. It's the most popular ride in this amusement park.
Kana : And let's watch the *parade. It's usually held for 20 minutes, but today it'll be held for 30 minutes because it's summer vacation now.

After the parade

Kana : It was fun today. It's already 3 p.m. Let's buy gifts for our friends and go home.
John : What time will we leave? The trains at Sahara Station leave at 3:40, 3:55, 4:10, 4:15, and 4:30. We need 40 minutes to buy gifts.
Kana : It takes 20 minutes from here to Sahara Station on foot. So let's take the (⑤) train.

Mai is an elementary school student in Yokosuka. Her grandfather lives alone near Mai's house. He likes reading, painting and *growing vegetables. Mai often thought, "Doesn't Grandpa feel lonely?"

One day in July, Mai said to her parents, "Grandpa lives alone in his house. Shall we invite him to our house and have dinner together next week?" Her mother said, "That's a great idea. I will ask him to ①do so."

The next week, Mai's grandfather came to Mai's house. After dinner, Mai played the piano. Her grandfather enjoyed it and said, "Mai, you play the piano very well." Mai said, "Thank you, Grandpa. I like music. And the piano is my *treasure!" "That's nice. It is good for you to have something important." "Grandpa, how about you? What is your treasure?" Her grandfather said, "Well, my books, paintings, *fields to grow vegetables... I have a lot of treasures." "That's great. May I go to see your treasures someday?" He said, "Of course. Would you like to come to my house next week? I'll show them." ②"That's wonderful!" Mai said.

On the first Sunday of August, Mai visited her grandfather's house with her parents. "Welcome, Mai", said her grandfather. After entering his house, Mai was surprised that there were so many books on the *bookshelf and paintings on the wall. "Wow, did you read all the books?" Mai asked. "Yes. But these are half of the books I have. (a) are in my room." Her grandfather answered. "Did you paint all the pictures on the wall?" Mai asked again. "Yes, I did. Do you like them?" Mai smiled and *nodded.

While Mai, her parents and grandfather had a cup of tea, Mai's grandfather said, "Mai, I will go and get some vegetables in the field. Will you help me?" "Sure. I like your vegetables very much." In the field, there were many kinds of vegetables, and they looked very fresh. They picked them and put them into the basket. When Mai tried to pick an *eggplant, "Mai, eggplants have *thorns. Be careful about picking them." Mai's grandfather *warned her. "OK, Grandpa. By the way, don't you grow corn in your field? That's my favorite." Mai asked. "Corn? No, it's difficult to grow them. But I promise I will try someday", said her grandfather.

The basket was full of many colorful vegetables such as red tomatoes, yellow *bell peppers, black eggplant, green cucumbers and many other kinds of vegetables. What surprised Mai the most was a *huge watermelon. "I've never seen such a big watermelon." Mai said. "Would you like to try one? I have (b) one in the *fridge. It should be colder and sweeter. Let's eat it together." Mai was looking forward to eating it.

(③) Mai and her parents got inside the house, Mai's grandfather brought the watermelon from the fridge. The watermelon in his arms was much bigger than Mai *expected. Then, Mai's mother cut it into small pieces. Mai ate some of them. "This is so sweet." Mai said (④) with a smile. Her grandfather also looked happy.

When Mai and her parents left her grandfather's house, he told them to take all the vegetables they got today. "Thank you, Grandpa." Mai said. "Mai, there is one more thing I want to give you." Her grandfather brought a large piece of *rolled paper and *handed it to Mai. "What's this?" She *unrolled it and *got surprised to see what was on the paper. It was Mai, herself. Her grandfather painted the *portrait of Mai and gave it to her as a gift. "Grandpa, this is ..."

⑤ Mai was so [the painting / surprised / couldn't / at / she / that] say other words. Her grandfather said, "You asked me what my treasure was, right?" Mai nodded. "It's you, Mai. I'm always happy to be with you." "Thank you, Grandpa." Mai *hugged her grandfather. Mai looked at the painting again. It was more colorful than any other painting on the wall in her grandfather's house.
